Body

In this session you will hear about the FCO's approach to learning and development, and describe the culture of learning across HMG's global network overseas. A case study of the Diplomatic Academy will be used to demonstrate investing in sharing skills and knowledge in a climate of austerity. You will hear a description of the plans for the development of the Academy, including involvement of other Departments. In a Q and A session and subsequent discussion, delegates will interrogate the FCO's approach and exchange experiences from their own Departments.
